

Donor and Financial Transparency Statement

The Amos Institute for Medical Faculty Development (“AIMFD”) is a charitable organization as described in 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, registered in the state of Massachusetts. In accordance with the Internal Revenue Service guidelines, AIMFD maintains discretion and sole control over the use of all donated funds.

Our mission demands that we, Board and Committee Members, staff, and volunteers uphold the public trust and act in an ethical manner in all that we do in the name of AIMFD. We are committed to transparency in every aspect of funding our organization.

As a public charity, we are committed to:

- Acting responsibly and with integrity;
- Promoting financial accountability, transparency, and best governance practices;
- Respecting the wide variety of people who support our mission through donations of their time, talent, and money;
- Being responsible stewards of AIMFD, its mission, reputation, and resources;
- Being open and honest in all of our dealings with both internal and external audiences.

As a public charity, we rely on the public for funding and volunteer support, which is critical to the success of our mission. We accept gifts, grants, and sponsorships from individuals, organizations, and foundations to help with our general operations and special projects. We may also receive funds from standard government programs offered to nonprofits or similar businesses. Accepting financial support does not mean we endorse donors or their products, services, or opinions. We will not accept donations from sources that, in the opinion of our board of directors, present a conflict of interest with our work or compromise our independence.

Our Board and Committee Members, staff and volunteers, and other individuals who support AIMFD receive no personal financial gain from donations made to AIMFD. Such donations are made and used solely to support the organization's operations and special projects.

If you have any questions regarding your donation(s) or AIMFD or need a receipt or a statement of any of your contributions, please feel free to contact us.
